

ALLIE L. NEWBERRY

Allie L., wife of Frank Newberry, died April 16, 1887, at her late residence in this village, aged 22 years, 5 months and 15 days.

The case of Mrs. Newberry was a peculiarly sad one, and enlisted the kindest sympathies of an extended circle of friends and acquaintances.

Two years ago, the third of March last, she was married, and herself and young husband started forth to battle with life full of hopes and bright anticipations. Her gently and pleasant disposition and amiable manners brought around her many who delighted to call her friend, and life seemed fraught with much to make it desirable.

About the last of January last she was taken ill, since which time, up to the time of her death, she had suffered more than human tongue could express, yet we are told that during all that time not a murmur or complaint was heard to escape her lips, for she trusted implicitly in Him who was able to sustain and comfort. And so she passed away, quietly and sweetly, like the one whose 'eyes close to pleasant dreams'.

She was buried from the house Sunday afternoon, the 18th inst., Rev. Wm. Hollinshed conducting the service.

The Rochester Era

April 22, 1887